

University of Zagreb
Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences
Doctoral studies in Linguistics

No. 2021-05/01

At the session of the DS linguistics Council held on 13th May 2021, the following was adopted:

DECISION

In accordance with Art. 11 St. 3 of the Ordinance on doctoral studies, according to which a student is required to have published or accepted for publication at least one paper in a respectable international or domestic scientific journal for the scientific field to which their doctoral thesis relates, and is thematically related to their doctoral research (in which they are the only or one of the main authors), the Council of DSL encourages doctoral students to write original scientific work in A1 Croatian journals or foreign journals with an international character. Original scientific papers or preliminary communications in A1 or A2 journals will be accepted. If the paper has not been published, a confirmation from the editorial board is required that the work has been reviewed and accepted for publication. When submitting a doctoral thesis, the student is obliged to submit a qualified thesis to the Council of DSL for inspection. The categorisation of Croatian journals is available in the Ordinance on appointment to scientific grades NN 28/2017 and NN 72/2019.

In Zagreb, May 13th, 2021

Head of DS Linguistics
Ida Raffaelli, PhD, full professor